Philips cardiovascular service ranks #1

Philips leads in customer satisfaction

Through distinctive service and system performance, Philips received top rankings from customers across the 2015 IMV ServiceTrak survey.

In the survey, customers were asked to rate manufacturers on factors across the product ownership, including satisfaction with service performance, manufacturer and system performance, and satisfaction with service engineers. IMV asked customers to rate more than 600 cardiovascular systems. Philips cardiovascular ranks first in 32 performance factors overall.

Outstanding system performance reflects commitment to excellence

Philips rankings demonstrate our commitment to deliver superb system performance to enable our customers to focus on quality patient care. Customers rank Philips cardiovascular systems #1 for ease of use, outstanding image quality, strong reliability of detectors, hardware and software, meeting uptime expectations and value of system upgrades. Philips strength in technology and innovation is recognized by customers with #1 ranking of our ability to drive industry standards.

Exceptional service comes from the best service engineers

Dedication, competence, and reliability are characteristics Philips seeks and nurtures in its service engineers, and customers recognize and approve of these qualities. Philips service engineer performance ranks #1 in nearly all seven factors, demonstrating our commitment and ability to deliver exceptional service experience to our customers. Our engineers recognize that every customer issue deserves a fast and effective response, as evidenced by the top ranking in effective troubleshooting, timeliness of arrival on-site, degree to which commitments are met, and service engineer competence and attitude. Their consistently high quality performance earns Philips service engineers a top ranking for overall satisfaction with the manufacturer.

When choosing Philips to fulfill your cardiovascular imaging needs, you are choosing a premium system backed by premium people. Our commitment to technology and people is a commitment to you, to support you so that you can focus on what's most important – your patients.
